Fuji Chemical Industries USA, Inc. and Brenntag Canada Inc., announce exclusive distribution agreement

BURLINGTON, NJ – Effective April 1, 2020, Fuji Chemical Industries USA has named Brenntag Canada the exclusive distributor, into the Canadian market, of Fuji's premium line of problem-solving excipients. These include NEUSILIN®, FUJICALIN®, F-MELT® and FUJISIL™. Fuji has produced their excipients since its founding in 1946 at its manufacturing site in Toyama, Japan. The entire line of excipients is produced using Fuji's extensive spray drying capabilities. These multi-functional excipients have applications in pharmaceutical, dietary supplement/nutraceutical, personal care, and cbd/cannabis segments.

This collaboration will provide benefits to both current Fuji customers and to potential customers working on developmental projects. Customers will have access to both local inventory and service through Brenntag's warehouse network in Canada. Brenntag's local pharma sales, product management, and business development team will be focused on servicing the local market by assisting with questions involving service requirements, technical and regulatory assistance, support of developmental projects, and product availability.
